CHURCHES SHOULD NOT BE INVOLVED IN POLITICS

I hear that comment quite often. Is it true? Should churches just preach the gospel? A survey of Scriptures will reveal quite the opposite. Moses was sent by God to the government leader of his day and informed him that an exodus was imminent. Nathan the Prophet was sent to King David with a message of rebuke from God. Elijah walked into the presence of King Ahab who was a figure head to his wife Jezebel and informed them of the upcoming drought. Daniel dared to defy the government authority of his day and kept on praying. The three Hebrew children were joined by our Pre-Incarnate Lord in the fiery furnace because they stood against the political power of their day. John the Baptist lost his head because he exposed the sin of his government leaders. The book of Acts represents America all over again. When told not to teach nor preach in the Name of Jesus they rightly said; "We ought to obey God rather than men." (Acts 5:29) Both the political and religious leaders of Nehemiah's day worked together to rebuild the City of Jerusalem. Abraham joined with the heathen Kings of his day to rescue Lot. As the book of Hebrews states; "And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me etc." (Hebrews 11:32)

Rev. Frederic Muhlenburg condemned his brother Peter who was a Virginia Pastor for becoming involved in politics. However he had a rebirth of reality when the British drove them out of their church and confiscated their property. Frederic then wrote his brother and apologized for his lack of understanding of the times in which they lived. Frederic ran for congress and became one of the signers of The Bill Of Rights.

When you consider that nearly thirty of our Founding Fathers held Theology Degrees then it becomes evident that they believed religion should play a central role in government. It is obvious that their belief system carved out a republic which has become the envy of the world.

EXERCISE YOUR VOTING RIGHT!

On May 6 you will have the opportunity to cast a vote for the candidate of your choice. The Bible reminds us; "When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn." (Proverbs 29:2) You must be registered if you vote. The deadline for registration in our State is April 6, 2008. This year we will help elect both a President and Governor as well as local candidates. It is vitally important that you evaluate each candidate on both their platform and religious convictions. The choices in the November election will be determined by the choices in the May 6 Primary. You owe it to our country to show up at the polls and cast your vote on behalf of the moral issues facing our Nation.
